- a. Should specialized firms focused on mitigation strategy design, ground-truthing, and scenario modeling submit an SOQ individually?

Answer: Yes.

- b. Do you foresee contracting directly with multiple distinct firms for different phases of these projects, or do you encourage specialized firms to form prime/sub-consultant teams prior to SOQ submission?

Answer: Please do not include qualifications of subconsultants or subcontractors at this time for work and services not provided by your firm.

- c. Is there an estimated or approximate budget range anticipated for the initial projects slated under this 5-year qualified list?

Answer: This RFQ process is to evaluate qualifications to create a list of qualified consultants. Specific work parameters and contract amounts will be discussed with firms selected from the list for future agreements, if any.
